

Leading through Turbulent Times

1 day Workshop for SMTs

In these testing times for SMTs why not take a day to work out in our 'team gym', to tone up the performance of your leadership team?

Here are the features:

- Live observations by a trained consultant as your team gets to work in a 2 hour meeting, on a real business issue, with personal and group feedback on performance.
- A psychometric profile of the team, to focus on playing to strengths, one to one feedback and great team meeting disciplines, using existing or newly created data.
- The creation of a 6 or 12 month key milestone plan to deliver leadership, decisions, results and motivation into the organisation.

And here's the benefit:

A team with a great reputation for leading through turbulent times.

Keep the pressure on.....

Like Rome, teams can't be built in a day. So, why not capitalise on your investment in your team and take up the option to keep performance improvements live, and to support individuals for 12 weeks after the workshop?

We'll stay with your team members for 12 weeks after the workshop, with a series of motivating messages and practical advice for dealing with change and improving team performance. Individuals can also access 1 hour of telephone coaching support during this critical period of performance improvement.
